

POLYBOND

Anti-Vibration Systems

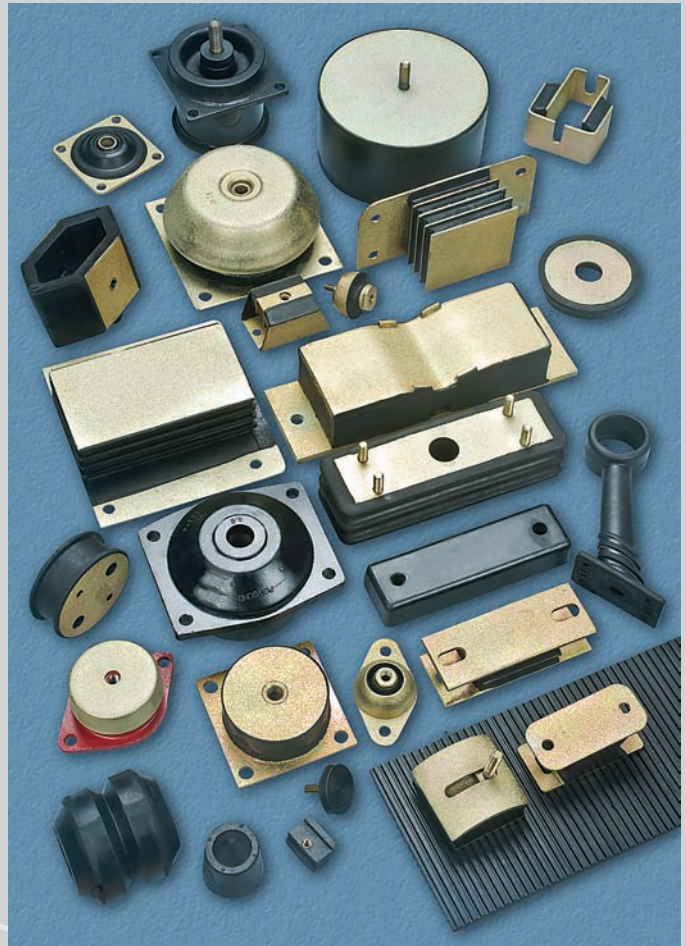

'Polybond' anti-vibration mountings include a wide range of products to control vibration, mechanical shocks and structure borne noise.

We manufacture a variety of products to serve industrial applications such as engines, compressor, generating sets, processing machinery, instrumentation as well as defense and naval applications.

Our technical expertise is backed with rich experience in offering customized solutions for various applications in the above field.

Our in-house testing laboratory is equipped with the latest test equipment and facilitates us to quickly support and deliver engineering solutions for controlling vibrations and noise.

Please log on to www.controlvibrations.net for more details.

www.polybondindia.com

mkt.polybond@rathigroup.com